LOVE IT LIKE A Local

From the serene island beaches to the sprawling nature preserves, and everything in between, we all love Bradenton/Anna Maria Island/Longboat Key. The natural beauty, vast array of wildlife, and one-of-a-kind culture are cherished by all those who call the Bradenton Area home. And visitors like it just as much as the locals. In fact, they love it. Read these easy-to-follow tips to protect and preserve the Bradenton Area, and love it like a local.

TRASH

Throw away your trash in the proper receptacles and pick up any trash you find.

TRANSPORTATION

When driving anywhere on the island, watch the speed limit and look out for bicyclists and golf carts.

WILDLIFE

Look but don't touch. Show your love for our local wildlife from a distance.

PRESERVATION

Passage Key National Wildlife Preserve, and areas containing sand dunes, sea oats, sea grapes, and mangroves are off limits and a vital part of our ecosystem.

SUNSCREEN

Help protect our environment by only using eco-friendly sunscreens.

SUSTAINABILITY

Help our local environment by recycling and not using plastic straws, and support our local economy by visiting area businesses.

RESPECT

Don't just love it, respect it. For you it's a vacation, but for us it's our home. So please respect posted signs and parking restrictions along private roads and on private property.
